

T.L. Rogers
Judge, NATO Mission Appeals Tribunal

In addition to his admission to the College of Judges for the Mission Appeals Tribunal, Judge T.L. Rogers also works in the Labor and Employee Relations field within the United States.

Prior to his work in Labor and Employee Relations, Judge Rogers served as a Circuit Court Judge for the US Army Trial Judiciary, where he presided over felony level criminal trials in multiple states. His selection for the Army trial bench came after serving in successive senior legal advisor positions for US Army Special Operations Command and the US Army's 82nd Airborne Division.

Judge Rogers' 28 years of legal practice includes representation of government entities, as well as representation of individual persons. Additionally, Judge Rogers has previously served as an Associate Professor of Administrative Law at The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School, and later as Chief of International Law and Operations for US Army Europe.

Judge Rogers' 30 years of military service includes three combat deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan, totaling 27 months.

Judge Rogers holds Juris Doctorate (J.D.), Master of Laws (LL.M.), and Master of Strategic Studies (M.S.S.) degrees.
